Eighty Lives Are Probably Lost on the City of Pittsburg.

BOAT TOTAL WRECK

Impossible to Ascertain the Names of Those Who Perished—Sensational Stories as to How the Boat Caught on Fire.

Cairo, Ill., April 22.—After searching two days the death roll of the burned steamer City of Pittsburg has not been reduced from the first report. Of the 165 persons on board the boat when it burned Sunday about half are still missing, and no further hope for them is expected. The books and valuables of the boat, crew and passengers are still in the ruins.

The wreck is above water and still smouldering. Owing to the heated condition of the hull search for those cremated in it has not been begun and very few of the bodies of those who are drowned have been recovered, because of the swift current at the scene of the disater.

At the coroner's inquest over the bodies of Capt. Sylvester Doss and Miss Marie Tissim, a verdict was rendered that the former came to death from exhaustion and that the latter from inhaling smoke, and nothing was developed as to the origin, cause or responsibility for the disater. Captain Philips testified that he could not account for the origin of the fire, unless an electric wire had started it. He stated that, so far as he knew, there were 56 lives lost.

The coroner was advised of other bodies being recovered at distances from this city, but none of them have been identified.

Sensational reports have been circulated about an alleged quarrel between the officers of the steamer and the roustabouts, and that the fire may have been of incendiary origin, but no credence is given to these reports.

Many stories have been told by survivors of their thrilling experiences escaping from the burning decks and some of them are of a most startling character.

The victims were from points along the Ohio valley and they have left a trail of bereavement from Pittsburg to the Mississippi.

The fire started in the forward hatch larboard and burned fiercely, when the steamer was run ashore and escapes were made over the cabin railing. Very few passengers or the crew were aware of fire until it was too late. The captain and clerk state 140 persons were aboard, including the crew, and claim in all 80 persons have been accounted for, leaving 60 people lost or unaccounted for.

The following is a partial list obtained, as far as possible, with meagre information obtainable:

Miss Marie Tessim, Cannelton, Ind.

Three children of Mrs. Fannie McCullom of Leavenworth, Ind.

Patrick Burke and seven children of his family, Owensboro, Ky.

Captain Wesley Doss, retired river pilot, Cincinnati.

Child of Archie M. Allen, Pittsburg, Pa.

Miss Mary Lister, Carrollton, O.

Child of Pilot Al Pritchard, Memphis, Tenn.

Clay Breeze, wife and son, Uniontown, Ky.

Wm. Rentz Bollinger, Cincinnati, O., first steward.

L. L. Hunter of Litinti, Pa.

Joe Redding, Cincinnati, O.

Fred Jones, Newport, Ky., striker engineer.

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION

A Grander Reception Given Him at Holguin Than at Gibara

Holguin, April 22.—When President Elect Palma arrived at Holguin, Cuba, the demonstration in his honor excelled even the welcome at Gibara. His people live near Gerald.

New York, April 22.—According to private advices receiver at Newark, N. J., Frank W. Redding of that city has been made a manderin by the sultan of Mindanao. Redding formerly was a member of the Astor battery.

Trouble in Soudan.

Looks like Dallas might have managed to give the old veterans a warm enongh reception without that big fire.

A Massachusetts soldier, returned from the Philippines, says the plans being used in those islands for the subjugation of the natives were borrowed from Weyler, of odious memory, in Cuba.

A British general, now in Chicago, boasts that there is no danger of the shipment of horses and mules to South Africa being stopped because America is ruled by the almighty dollar.

A Texas editor tells how he first courted his wife: "When I first went to see her, I showed a timid heart; and even when the light was low, we sat this far apart. but as our love grew warmer, we learned the joy of bliss, we knocked out all the spaces and sat up closelikethis."

—San Antonio Express.

The thousands of visitors pouring into Texas from all quarters on account of the Dallas reunion affords a magnificent opportunity for advertising the resources of the state. Many of them are coming to Texas expressly to find out about the opportunities to secure homes and make investments. Hundreds of them will not go to Dallas at all, but have taken advantage of the low rates to visit relatives or do a little prospecting, and Texas will doubtless gain hundreds of good citizens in consequence.

Sanitary Inspection.

I will make a complete and thorough inspection of the town this week, to ascertain its sanitary condition. People are required to have their alleys and premises clean and free from contaminating matter. The habit of throwing carcasses of small animals and fowls into the alleys or back lots is unlawful, and must not be practiced. While I mention this specifically it is by no means the only thing requisite. Accumulations of all kinds must be removed or avoided, and clostets regularly and frequently cleaned and all other well known means practiced to keep the town in a good sanitary condition.

Very respectfully,
W. H. Oliver,
120 City Health Officer.

DEATH OF P. N. CAUSEY

An Old and Respected Citizen of Brazos County Gone.

Death has lately visited the Wellborn community and taken from our midst one of our oldest and best citizens.

Mr. P. N. Causey was born in Georgia in 1840; was there married to Miss Mary Taylor and came to Texas in 1871. About 1878 he joined the Methodist church at this place, where he has lived to the day of his death, April 17, '02. His first wife having died. he was married in 1893 to Mrs. M. Burkhalter who survives him. He also leaves three children, Mrs. A. W. Royder, of Wellborn; L. Causey, of Dallas, and Tom Causey, of Alienfarm, all of whom attended him in his last illness.

All who knew Mr Causey will remember him as a devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father and a jovial companion whose hospitality was unbounded and whose hand was never withheld from one in need.

Impressive services were held at the cemetery, a large crowd having gathered there to pay the last tribute of respect to the dead.

The affectionate sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones. A Friend.

Wellborn, Tex., April 22, '02.

Mr. Tom Closs, of Cottonwood, was here buying cattle Thursday.

Mrs. Eva Drummonds, of Clairmont, visited Mrs. McWhorter Wednesday.

Mrs. Rhodes and little son Marshal, of Cottonwood, were in our vicinity last week.

Mr. Tom Wheeless visited Edge Thursday.

Mrs. Mansel visited Mrs. Wheeless Thursday.

Mr. A. B. Sherrod, of Payne's Prairie, was a visitor here Sunday evening.

Let's all go to Cedar creek Friday, 25th, and make the picnic a success. Johnnie.

A THRONG AT DALLAS

More Than Fifty Special Trains Reached the City.

READY FOR OPENING

The Veterans Will Be Taken Care of at the Fair Grounds Free—Buffalo Meat Barbecued for the Old Soldiers to Enjoy.

Dallas, April 22.—More than 50 special trains reached this city between midnight Sunday and midday Monday, and the forty-eight regular trains were loaded to their full capacity in nearly every instance. The number of reunion visitors in the city previous to midnight Sunday was roughly estimated from 5000 to 7000, the calculation being made from reports at the passenger offices.

The 50 specials yesterday were composed in many cases of as much as twelve coaches and would average probably eight coaches each, or a total of 400. On the basis of 50 persons to each coach, the number of arrivals up to midnight Monday night on the excursion trains alone was approximately 25,000. This number was greatly increased by additional specials reaching the city between midnight and daylight Tuesday morning.

Nothing approaching an accurate estimate of the number of passengers carried by the regular trains could be obtained, but every line reported heavy business and all carried extra coaches for the accommodation of the reunion travel.

Commencing Tuesday morning the hospitality of Dallas to the Confederate veterans begins. This is the day on which they were ordered to report at Dallas for their annual reunion, and this is the day, therefore, on which Dallas is ready to welcome them.

It is stated that every arrangement for their comfort and entertainment has been made; that the men who wore the gray will be cared for just as tenderly as if they were at their own firesides in the old states far away.

They will be furnished with comfortable quarters in tents on the State Fair grounds, now designated as Albert Sydney Johnston camp, and three good meals will be provided for them during each day. For this the cost will be nothing. Their badges, which will be distributed to them Tuesday at the camp grounds, will entitle them to admission to all functions and entertainments. So long as the veterans remain on the grounds they will be at no expense whatever, and the Reunion association will be responsible for their care. Shuold they leave the camp grounds, however, and stay down town, then, it is agreed, they must look out for themselves, and the association be held entirely blameless for anything that occurs to them.

Gen. H. W. Graber will have charge of the work of registration at Albert Sydney Johnston camp. He will keep thirteen division registers, and with the aid of these the veterans will have no difficulty in ascertaining if any of their old comrades whom they have not seen in years are on the grounds. Instructions as to the method to be pursued are to be found on the back of registration blanks which will be provided at the booths. If these are followed there will be no confusion, and old friends will meet each other in the minimum of time. If they are not followed, the chances are against such a happy ending.

Capt. June Peak will have charge of the commissary department. He has a great corps of assitants, and is prepared to serve good food in quick time. He is making great preparations for the buffalo dinner, which is to be given next Saturday. On that occasion the veterans will be fed with six barbecued buffaloes, taken from the most famous herd in the United States, which is on the Goodnight ranch in this state. The Goodnight herd is probably the largest in the country. Capt. Goodnight, the owner of the ranch, sold five of these animals to the Reunion association at a very low price, and the other was donated to the veterans by his wife. This will probably be the last great meal ever made off of buffalo meat. No other commonwealth in the Union can furnish such a repast.

The United Confederate Veterans will hold their meetings in the auditorium on the grounds. This is one of the greatest structures of its kind in the United States, and probably is the largest in the south. Its actual seating capacity is said to be 8000. There is standing room for almost a quarter as many more. The acoustics are said to be perfect, and it is expected that the scene presented when the great hall is filled to overflowing with veterans and others who are stirred to the very utmost by some impassioned orator will be inspiring in the extreme. As told in the programme, the first session begins promptly at 10 a. m., and will be devoted almost exclusively to addresses of welcome, responses and music. Some of the best speakers in the south are on the programme.

Monday night the officials of the Reunion association felt confident that the arrangements were as complete as human thought and efforts could make them. They believed that Dallas would be fully able to take care of the enormous crowds that are pouring in here on every train, and prophesied that when this reunion was over, Dallas would be the best and most favorably advertised city on the contineat.

Looks like Dallas might have managed to give the old veterans a warm enongh reception without that big fire.

A Massachusetts soldier, returned from the Philippines, says the plans being used in those islands for the subjugation of the natives were borrowed from Weyler, of odious memory, in Cuba.

A British general, now in Chicago, boasts that there is no danger of the shipment of horses and mules to South Africa being stopped because America is ruled by the almighty dollar.

A Texas editor tells how he first courted his wife: "When I first went to see her, I showed a timid heart; and even when the light was low, we sat this far apart. but as our love grew warmer, we learned the joy of bliss, we knocked out all the spaces and sat up closelikethis."

—San Antonio Express.

The thousands of visitors pouring into Texas from all quarters on account of the Dallas reunion affords a magnificent opportunity for advertising the resources of the state. Many of them are coming to Texas expressly to find out about the opportunities to secure homes and make investments. Hundreds of them will not go to Dallas at all, but have taken advantage of the low rates to visit relatives or do a little prospecting, and Texas will doubtless gain hundreds of good citizens in consequence.

Sanitary Inspection.

I will make a complete and thorough inspection of the town this week, to ascertain its sanitary condition. People are required to have their alleys and premises clean and free from contaminating matter. The habit of throwing carcasses of small animals and fowls into the alleys or back lots is unlawful, and must not be practiced. While I mention this specifically it is by no means the only thing requisite. Accumulations of all kinds must be removed or avoided, and clostets regularly and frequently cleaned and all other well known means practiced to keep the town in a good sanitary condition.

Very respectfully,
W. H. Oliver,
120 City Health Officer.

DEATH OF P. N. CAUSEY

An Old and Respected Citizen of Brazos County Gone.

Death has lately visited the Wellborn community and taken from our midst one of our oldest and best citizens.

Mr. P. N. Causey was born in Georgia in 1840; was there married to Miss Mary Taylor and came to Texas in 1871. About 1878 he joined the Methodist church at this place, where he has lived to the day of his death, April 17, '02. His first wife having died, he was married in 1893 to Mrs. M. Burkhalter who survives him. He also leaves three children, Mrs. A. W. Royder, of Wellborn; L. Causey, of Dallas, and Tom Causey, of Allenfarm, all of whom attended him in his last illness.

All who knew Mr Causey will remember him as a devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father and a jovial companion whose hospitality was unbounded and whose hand was never withheld from one in need.

Impressive services were held at the cemetery, a large crowd having gathered there to pay the last tribute of respect to the dead.

The affectionate sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones.

A Friend.

Wellborn, Tex., April 22, '02.

FICKEY.

April 22—We had another good shower Wednesday, followed by considerable hail which did some damage by beating down corn and cotton.

Farmers are in good spirits this week over the recent rains.

We have fine prospects for fruit.

Health is tolerably good at present.

Prof. Wheeless, of Franklin, has been a visitor here this week.

Mr. Tom Closs, of Cottonwood, was here buying cattle Thursday.

Mrs. Eva Drummonds, of Clairmont, visited Mrs. McWhorter Wednesday.

Mrs. Rhodes and little son Marshal, of Cottonwood, were in our vicinity last week.

Mr. Tom Wheeless visited Edge Thursday.

Mrs. Mansel visited Mrs. Wheeless Thursday.

Mr. A. B. Sherrod, of Payne's Prairie, was a visitor here Sunday evening.

Let's all go to Cedar creek Friday, 25th, and make the picnic a success.

Johnnie.

Lively Discussion on the Race Question Precipitated in the House.

Washington, April 22.—The house Monday entered on consideration of the military appropriation bill. In addition to the regular items, it contains provisions for the extensive improvement and extension of the grounds and buildings at West Point. These provisions are to cost $6,500,000, while a little over $3,000,000 is appropriated in the bill.

During the debate on the military academy bill Mr. Gilbert of Kentucky precipitated a debate on the race question, which was participated in by Messrs. Gileltt of Massachusetts, Blackburn of North Carolina, Ketchum of North Carolina and Mr. Gaines of Tennessee.

Mr. Cochran of Missouri and Mr. Gillett discussed the question of the alleged violation of the neutrality laws in the shipment of horses and mules to South Africa.

River and Harbor Passed.

Washington, April 22.—It required less than two hours of the senate to pass the rivers and harbors bill Monday, and it goes to conference with the Texas items in rather satisfactory shape. The Galveston inner harbor amendment was corrected by a committee amendment, which was adopted, providing that the appropriation, $200,000 in cash, and $400,000 continuing contracts shall apply from the outer end of the inner bay to Fifty-first street. The place or places for the expenditure of the money will be left to the discretion of the secretary of war.

The Buffalo bayou item was amended by a committee amendment providing that $600,000 shall be expended on division No. 1, and $400,000 on division No. 2, the ratio to be preserved in spending the cash appropriation.

May Sue the Corporation.

Washington, April 22.—The United States supreme court has granted leave to the state of Washington to file an original bill for an injunction against the Great Northern railroad. Northern Pacific railroad and the Northern Securities company in accordance with the petition of that state recently filed in the court.

The opinion was rendered by Chief Justice Fuller, who stated that the court had always exercised the utmost care in its proceedings in original cases and that the present decision to grant leave to file was intended to be entirely without prejudice to either party at interest.

Woman Brutally Murdered.

Corpus Christi, Tex., April 22.—Brutally murdered in her own home in the presence of her 8-months-old infant, is the awful fate that befell Mrs. James Hatch, Jr., Monday morning about 9 o'clock. James Hatch, Jr., is one of Nueces county's best known and most popular farmers, and resides about one mile west of the city limits. His house faces the public road, on which scores of wagons and hundreds of people pass daily. Monday morning Mr. Hatch left his home about 7 o'clock for a distant part of the field to gather beans, leaving his wife and baby at the house. Two Mexicans have been arrested for the crime. Motive for the crime is unknown.

Killed by a Train.

Van Alstyne, Tex., April 22.—S. P. Beard, for a number of years a resident of this place, but recently in charge of section boarding house No. 49 of the Houston and Texas Central railway, was run over and instantly killed a few miles south of town by train No. 2. Mr. Beard worked on the section and was with the crew when the accident occurred. He was adjusting a plate and had started down the track for a bolt when the southbound passenger ran upon him. A strong wind was blowing from the south and he was unable to hear the engineer's signal of danger.

Fight Between Cattlemen

Vinita, I. T., April 22.—In a fight between cattlemen west of Collinsville, in the Cherokee Nation, William Phillips was instantly killed and William Mayfield, Jesse Skidmore and Lige Johnson were mortally wounded. All are non-resident cattlemen who have pastures near Oolagh, not far from Collinsville. The fight was the result of an old feud between Skidmore and Mayfield, which had its origin in a court contest over some grazing land.

Drowning at Waco

Waco, Tex., April 22.—A number of boys went swimming in the Waco natatorium Monday, and Ed Malcolm, aged 12, who could not swim, went beyond his depth and was drowned. The pool was crowded, and he was not missed at first. One of the boys, looking through the clear water, saw Ed on the bottom of the pool, dead. The deceased was the son of Mrs. Mary Malcolm, a widow.

Struck by a Rebounding Limb.

Okmulgee, I. T., April 22.—The second accident in the tie camp has occurred here. J. D. Smith of Bonham, Tex., making ties for the Choctaw, was struck by rebounding limbs, breaking his skull. He died from his injuries. The other death was a 6-year-old child of D. P. Philips, crushed to death by a falling tree in the Ozark camp. Philips was from Missouri.

Boy Drowned.

Handley, Tex., April 22.—Robert the 10-year-old son of Dr. A. E. Graham, while out hunting with some other boys Saturday, became separated from them. Failing to return home at night, the citizens began a search, which resulted in his body being found at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Interurban lake.

The EYE

The Eye is a wonderful piece of divine mechanism, and deserves the best care within the reach of human knowledge. The delicate construction of this organ makes it necessary to use great care in selecting eyeglasses and spectacles. It is not generally understood by those depending upon artificial assistance for good vision, that it requires as much skill and scientific knowledge to adjust lenses to the eye as it does to prescribe medicines for the human system. Much of the present day eye trouble is due to wearing cheap, decentered lenses. No person should wear a glass unless prescribed by a reliable eyesight specialist, one thoroughly acquainted with anatomy, physiology and diseases of the eye, laws of light and science of optics.

Ordinary failing eyesight is by some regarded as alarming—by others treated too carelessly. All eyes begin to fail at 40 years of age, some have troubles a year or two before that time, the majority not till after. Ninety per cent of eye troubles are due to "putting off" the use of glasses after failure begins, or to wearing of wrong ones. Age, however, is no criterion for the wearing of glasses. Many are born with greater defects than come with the advance of years. When the need of glasses is actually evidenced, the CHILD OF TEN needs them much more than the adult of eighty. Nerve and muscle strain, due to the eye defects of children, act as an impediment to mental and physical development. What the eye sees is telegraphed at once to the brain. Strain the nerves of the eye and the brain is made to feel and suffer. Eye testing and glass fitting has advanced to a science—even to the man who has perfected himself in that science, there is no one test which can always be depended upon for accurate results. That a complete and reliable diagnosis of the Eye can only be reached by rhe use of several tests is becoming universally acknowledged.

SYMPTOMS OF EYE DEFECTS, SHOWING THE NEED OF GLASSES OR NEED OF DIFFERENT GLASSES.

Headache, dizziness, aversion to bright light, inability to see at close range, with perfect distant vision, sleepy feeling and desire to close the eyes when reading, or lines and letters running together, darting pains in eyeballs or temples, acquired cross eyes in children under ten years of age, blurring of vision, or inability to see objects distinctly at a distance, holding reading or close work either beyond or inside the normal distance of twelve inches, fatigue, or requiring a stronger light when reading, smarting or burning sensation in or about the eyes, seeing objects double, quivering of lids, or jerking of muscles in and around the eyes, dark floating spots or bright lights flashing before the eyes, turning head sidewise to look at an object, or holding object too close, watering of the eyes. This is an age of Specialists. The ability to do one thing and do it well is more to be commended and is of more benefit to humanity, than to do many things and none equal to the best. We limit our practice on the eye to errors of refraction, and thoughtful people are showing their appreciation of the specialist who devoted his time and study to acquiring knowledge of the eyes, and individual eyesight peculiarities.

THOUSANDS ATTEND

Address of Welcome and Replies Constitute the First Day's Session. General Gordon Greeted Enthusiastically in Hall.

Dallas, April 22.—The crush of visitors attending the Confederate reunion was the largest in the history of Dallas. It was estimated this morning that 75,000 visitors were in the city, while information from the railroads was that this number would be swelled during the day to 125,000, if not to 150,000.

While thousands of visitors did not leave the business section of the city, Camp Albert Sydney Johnson, two miles distant, was crowded to the limit.

Delegation after delegation from the four corners of the country reported and were assigned to their divisions in the vast city of tents. The great mass shed, seating over 8000, was opened at 10 o'clock a. m. An army of cooks and waiters worked like beavers, while the veterans, with a hunger born of a night in the open, did their best in an able manner to keep the cooks busy. Tea, coffee and milk by the barrel; beans, meat, hard tack and accessories by the wagon load disappeared in marvelous fashion. "The boys are eatin' as if they'd been separated from the wagon train for about three days," is the way one Lousianian put it.

When the convention opened the veterans, many of them comparing the bounteous plenty of their breakfasts with the starvation they were often called upon to endure during the war, were in high good humor. The building, seating 8600 people, was filled to the topmost row even before the convention was called to order by General K. M. Van Zandt, president of the Texas' Reunion association, the grounds full and even crowds on the outside. From pillar and post hung bunting and flags and pictures of old Confederate chieftains. The crowds were composed not alone of veterans, but of their sons and wives and daughters, maids of honors and sponsors, some in brass buttons and Confederate gray, but the majority in cool white, lent an air of animation to the scene. No applause was more enthusiastic than theirs, and no sympathy more apparent, for they were familiar with the heroic sufferings of teh old men they had come to honor.

Following the opening of the meeting by General Van Zandt, Chaplain Young delivered a touching invocation. Governor Joseph D. Sayers, on behalf of Texas, welcomed the visitors. Governor Sayers paid tribute to the dead of the "Lost Cause" in a befitting manner and then said:

"But magnificent beyond all description, as was the exhibition of American genius, courage and steadfastness to duty, in this great conflictof ours, the reconciliation that has taken place between the states, that had warred so fiercely and so long, will give to history a theme with which to adorn its brightest and fairest pages. To its accomplishment it is gratifying to recall the ex-president of the Confederacy contributed in small degree. In one of his latest public utterances to the people of the south he said: 'Men in whose hands the destiny of our southland lies, for love of her I break my silence and speak now a few words of respectful admonition. The past is dead; let it bury its dead with its hopes and aspirations. Let me beseech you to lay aside all rancor, all bitter sectional feeling and take your place in the ranks of those who will bring a consummation devoutly to be wished—a reunited people.'"

Mayor Ben E. Cabell welcomed the veterans to Dallas, and Hon. W. C. McKamey welcomed the old soldiers on behalf of the local sons of veterans, and Colonel W. L. Crawford spoke for the Texas Reunion association and local veterans, welcoming veterans, sons, daughters and visitors. His speech was delivered in his usual pleasant manner and was as happily received.

Hon. G. B. Gerald of Waco welcomed the veterans to Dallas on behalf of the veterans of Texas.

General John B. Gordon commander-in-chief, was delayed in reaching Dallas and after the speech of Mr. Garald, General Van Zandt turned the gavel over to General Stephen D. Lee and in appropriate words replied to the addresses of welcome. While he was speaking General Gordon arrived. At the sight of General Gordon the multitude burst forth with enthusiasm and it was sometime before General Gordon could reply, but when he could be heard in a very able manner he delivered a characteristic address. He expressed the pleasure of old veteran's in their joy to be at Dallas to a reunion and said all were agreed that "Texas was the biggest thing they ever saw.'

After some few preliminaries the convention was brought to a close to allow all to return to the city to witness the arrival of the "Kalif of Bagdad."

At night the sponsors' ball was held at the auditorium and was a grand success.

Tomorrow night will be the Kalif's parade and Thursday morning the parade of veterans.

The weather was ideal. Early in the day light showers fell that lay the disagreeable dust. The day throughout will be one long to be remembered.

WERE NOT SURE.

Greek Immigrants Did Not Want to Fight for England Against Boers.

New York, April 22.—Of the 5000 immigrants who have just arrived in the steerages of the liners Patria, Cymric, Zeland and Gascogne, there were 400 in the latter vessel who were not sure of their final destination until they saw the American flag over the forts at the narrows.

These immigrants were from Greece, and a rumor having spread among them that they were about to be kidnaped and shipped to South Africa to help England in the Boer war, they had flatly refused to go on board the steamship after their arrival at the quay in Havre from Marseilles on April 9.

In vain the officials pleaded, but not until two attaches of the Greek consulate at Havre arrived could quiet be restored. There were more than 50 who refused to believe, and the company's agent refunded their passage money.

Engineer Fatally Shot.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 23.—Henry Stump, engineer on the West Pennsylvania railroad, was probably fatally shot here while trying to capture a gang of burglars at Willow Grove. The burglars had stolen a safe from the Willow Grove tollhouse and were trying to open it when discovered by the crew of a passing freight train. The train was stopped and an attack made on the robbers who opened fire on the trainmen. Stump received three bullets. The burglars made their escape, but were forced to leave the safe behind.

Asked for His Intervention.

Brussels, April 22.—King Leopold has responded to the petition of the chamber of commerce asking for his intervention in the present crisis in a conciliatory, but non-committal manner, intimating that the government is carefully considering the situation and can be depended upon to loyally maintain execution and fulfill its duty by adopting a policy which it deems most useful for the wellbeing and tranquilty of the country. There was a general resumption of work here in the factories and coal mines of Liege.

Broke into a Smallpox House.

New York, April 22.—A burglar in Jersey City has caused much amusement by breaking into a house harboring a smallpox patient. He gave his name as James Cotter. Entrance was effected through the basement, and Cotter was leisurely prowling about when the daughter of the smallpox victim heard him and attracted an officer by screaming. Cotter will be strictly quarantined for 21 days.

Bulgarians Enter Turkey.

Constantinople, April 24.—A band of 30 Bulgarians recently crossed the frontier and penetrated to the vilayet of Kissovo, Boumelia, after a fight with Turkish troops. Details of the affair are lacking.

The EYE

The Eye is a wonderful piece of divine mechanism, and deserves the best care within the reach of human knowledge. The delicate construction of this organ makes it necessary to use great care in selecting eyeglasses and spectacles. It is not generally understood by those depending upon artificial assistance for good vision, that it requires as much skill and scientific knowledge to adjust lenses to the eye as it does to prescribe medicines for the human system. Much of the present day eye trouble is due to wearing cheap, decentered lenses. No person should wear a glass unless prescribed by a reliable eyesight specialist, one thoroughly acquainted with anatomy, physiology and diseases of the eye, laws of light and science of optics.

Ordinary failing eyesight is by some regarded as alarming—by others treated too carelessly. All eyes begin to fail at 40 years of age, some have troubles a year or two before that time, the majority not till after. Ninety per cent of eye troubles are due to "putting off" the use of glasses after failure begins, or to wearing of wrong ones. Age, however, is no criterion for the wearing of glasses. Many are born with greater defects than come with the advance of years. When the need of glasses is actually evidenced, the CHILD OF TEN needs them much more than the adult of eighty. Nerve and muscle strain, due to the eye defects of children, act as an impediment to mental and physical development. What the eye sees is telegraphed at once to the brain. Strain the nerves of the eye and the brain is made to feel and suffer. Eye testing and glass fitting has advanced to a science—even to the man who has perfected himself in that science, there is no one test which can always be depended upon for accurate results. That a complete and reliable diagnosis of the Eye can only be reached by rhe use of several tests is becoming universally acknowledged.

SYMPTOMS OF EYE DEFECTS, SHOWING THE NEED OF GLASSES OR NEED OF DIFFERENT GLASSES.

Headache, dizziness, aversion to bright light, inability to see at close range, with perfect distant vision, sleepy feeling and desire to close the eyes when reading, or lines and letters running together, darting pains in eyeballs or temples, acquired cross eyes in children under ten years of age, blurring of vision, or inability to see objects distinctly at a distance, holding reading or close work either beyond or inside the normal distance of twelve inches, fatigue, or requiring a stronger light when reading, smarting or burning sensation in or about the eyes, seeing objects double, quivering of lids, or jerking of muscles in and around the eyes, dark floating spots or bright lights flashing before the eyes, turning head sidewise to look at an object, or holding object too close, watering of the eyes. This is an age of Specialists. The ability to do one thing and do it well is more to be commended and is of more benefit to humanity, than to do many things and none equal to the best. We limit our practice on the eye to errors of refraction, and thoughtful people are showing their appreciation of the specialist who devoted his time and study to acquiring knowledge of the eyes, and individual eyesight peculiarities.
